FOREWORD

To keep the family history updated, it takes the cooperation and effort of everyone of us. If some sheets are incomplete, it is because I did not receive the information in time to run the copies. It takes but a few minutes out of each of your time and I have spent many, many hours on keeping records, writing letters, even a second letter, and later making phone calls, besides my sister's time in typing (Blanche Arthur).

There are bound to be some discrepancies. To the best of my ability, they are correct, but should you find any mistakes, please let me know.

Also by July 1st of each year, please send me: Gertrude Ayres, 713 West Washington Street, Winchester, Indiana, 47394, updated sheets if there are changes in your families: marriages, births, deaths, divorces, remarriages, changes of addresses. The change of address is so important as no one knows how hard it was to locate some people. I did not know into what city to start looking.

I have enjoyed the correspondence with relatives and have visited with many whom I did not know before this updating. This will always remain a fond memory.

Also it would be helpful and interesting if each of your families would list your occupations, schooling, and interesting little incidents. I do have some, but it got to be such a chore just to get the important data, such as full names and complete birth dates.

We should all say a big thanks to Sarah Moore for her first booklet, which was typed by Nellie Moore Thomas. I had trouble and she didn't have a car or telephone like I did.

I am also truly grateful to my cousin, Rena Moore, for the wonderful information which she has retained concerning the family which enlightened me in many ways in making these records.

The following are the officers for the 55th Annual Reunion of the Moore Family which is being held for the first time at the Spartanburg Park: Bernard Thomas, President; James Penny, Vice President; and Florence Moore Harndin, Secretary-Treasurer. For many years it has been held at the Goodrich Park in Winchester and prior to that at members' residences. Nellie Moore Thomas is responsible for entertainment this year.

The committee named for compiling this record is as follows:
Bernard Thomas, Rena Moore, Everett Moore, James Penny, and Blanche Arthur.

Thanks to Everyone! We hope you enjoy what we have written and please don't throw the booklet away. If you don't have any further use for the booklet, kindly give it to a public library.

Remember, don't put off until tomorrow what you can do today. Do you owe me an unanswered letter?

Gertrude Moore Ayres
